Ex-military flats to be bulldozed

• The Eynsham firefighters

THE Eynsham firefighters team will be rowing 36.5km in relay to raise awareness for their fire safety campaign, 365 Alive, on January 30.

The static row will take place from 10.30am until 3.30pm in Eynsham's Market Square.

Members of South Central Ambulance Service and Thames Valley Police will also be giving free training on life-saving CPR and how to use a defibrillator.

The firefighters are also taking on the Tough Mudder obstacle run in August to raise money for Oxford hospice Helen and Douglas House.

A SCHEME to demolish 54 flats in Carterton and replace them with 135 houses was given the go-ahead by West Oxfordshire District Council on Monday.

Outline application for the development south of Stanmore Crescent and north of Brize Norton Avenue was supported by Carterton Town Council and the Campaign to Protect Rural England (CPRE) West Oxfordshire.

Tenants are still living in the properties on the site, and applicants Annington Property Ltd said they are aware they will have to move out of their flats.

The chair of the town council's planning committee Roger Crappers said: "We welcome development as long as it's good development.

"Those houses are military houses that have been there for 50 years or more.

"They're past their sell by date. They don't do anything for the appearance of the town."

The 54 homes to be demolished are REEMA Prefabricated Reinforced Concrete, which is a type of housing designed after the Second World War usually for soldiers returning from the front lines.

By Alex Ballinger

Acting chair of the CPRE West Oxfordshire, Justine Garbutt, wrote to the council to say the group in favour of developing on REEMA land.

She said: "It is positive that matters are progressing on REEMA land. From the CPRE's perspective, development that leads to betterment is positive and brownfield spaces are preferable to greenfield land.

"This application is for less houses than the allocation, so we are satisfied that it does not represent a stretching of Carterton's target. It is therefore welcome in principle."

However the CPRE did raise concerns about the development, saying the planned 10 per cent affordable housing is not a 'significant contribution'.

Ms Garbutt added: "This does not deliver what we need.

Council 'desperately sorry' over £23m short term cuts

By Alex Ballinger

ATTEMPTS to cut a further £23 million from Oxfordshire County Council's (OCC) budget were announced on Monday as it tries to save around £361m by 2020.

Included in new plans to make savings are drawing from the council's reserves, bringing cuts from future years forward to 2016/17 and one-off reductions in spending in areas like its training budget, and the library service book fund.

• Oxfordshire County Council leader Ian Hudspeth

The council also revealed it is proposing a 3.99 per cent increase in council tax from April, 0.1 per cent less than the amount allowed without a referendum.

OCC leader Ian Hudspeth said: "We had hoped our original savings options would be a worst-case scenario and that we would not therefore have to go ahead with them all.

"We are desperately sorry that we now have to consider these extensive savings"

"We will be doing everything we can to help communities manage the impact."

The council initially predicted it would need to find around £50m savings due to cuts from Government but announced in December it would need to slash an extra £20m from its budget.

A public consultation, titled Talking Oxfordshire, identified 95 savings options last year that amount to the £50m needed.

The new short-term proposals leave £11m left to find from 2017 to 2020.

The council will bring forward cuts to its trading standards budget from 2019/20 to 2016/17 to save £270,000.

It will also carry out a review of senior management sooner than planned to save £200,000.

OCC had also previously set aside £1.5m for the predicted increased costs of waste disposal, but now believes it only needs £1.4m, creating savings of £100,000.

Labour county councillor John Tanner said: "I think the cuts are devastating and so does the Tory cabinet.

"The county council cuts aren't inevitable. The national Government could easily make a more generous settlement to OCC."

County councils in England can raise council tax by up to four per cent without a referendum, with two per cent as the original limit with a further two allowed for spending on adult social care.

But OCC says the benefit of the increase is cancelled out because Government is not compensating councils for the estimated cost of the new National Living Wage.

Cllr Hudspeth added: "We want to try to protect the most vulnerable people in Oxfordshire.

"By which we mean those adults who need help with basic personal care and children at risk of abuse or neglect."

The council is due to firm up its budget on February 16 ready to be adopted in April.

Weather alert

OXON: A cold weather alert has been issued for the whole of England and Oxfordshire County Council (OCC) is asking residents to check on their neighbours.

The Met Office put out its second highest warning (amber/level 3) on Tuesday and it runs until tomorrow afternoon.

Emergency planning officer at OCC Carole Mackay said: "When there's a cold weather alert of this nature we always ask residents to check if neighbours are okay – particularly if they are elderly or vulnerable."

The council also has been sending out gritters, which will cover 1,200 miles of road, the same distance as London to Iceland.

OCC grit all A, B and C roads while Highways England cover the A34, A43 and the M40.

Head-on crash

DIDCOT: Two people were injured in a head on collision between a car and a taxi on Tuesday evening.

South Central Ambulance Service (SCAS) was called to the B4493 between Station Road and the A4130 at around 6.44pm.

SCAS spokesperson David Gallagher said the drivers of the vehicles sustained injuries, but one refused treatment and was discharged at the scene against the advice of the paramedics, while the other was taken to Oxford's John Radcliffe Hospital to be treated for chest injuries.

Fans create tribute beers to deceased Brit 'legends'

A PICTURE has been circulated online of two Wychwood brewery beer bottles featuring images of actor Alan Rickman and musician David Bowie who died recently from cancer.

But the Witney-based beermaker has said the tribute beers were not made by them.

The designs are actually the work of John Davidson and Chris Epic-East.

John designed the Blackwych label, which features Mr Rickman as Harry Potter film series character Professor Snape.

While Chris designed the King Goblin bottle, inspired by Mr Bowie's portrayal of Jareth the Goblin King from the 1986 film Labyrinth.

The image went viral on Facebook after being shared by popular page The LAD Bible.

David said on Facebook: "The labels have nothing to do with the Wychwood brewery.

"I designed the Blackwych label and Chris Epic-East designed the King Goblin.

"I simply printed them and stuck them on to real bottles. I am a fan of the brewery and of the two British legends that unfortunately left us this month."

Spokesperson for Wychwood Jeremy Eaton confirmed the designs were not made by the brewery.

Mr Bowie died on Sunday January 10 and Mr Rickman last Thursday, both from cancer and both aged 69.

'Speculative developments' feared as local plan delayed

'Not enough affordable houses'

A COUNCIL document that earmarks 10,500 homes to be built in West Oxfordshire has been delayed by one year and councillors have voiced their concerns about 'speculative developments'.

Delays to West Oxfordshire District Council's (WODC) Local Plan 2031 were announced last month, but the council have said the second stage of the public examination will not take place until early 2017.

The news comes after the Government planning inspector said another 2,700 homes needed to be included in the plans to account for unmet housing need in Oxford City.

Labour district councillor Duncan Enright said: "I think speculative developments are a worry.

"I'm disappointed. We need to get a plan sorted as soon as possible."

But Cllr Enright said he believed the delay would not let through large developments like the 270 home Windrush Valley application, which was rejected in 2014.

Planning inspector Simon Emerson previously suggested the parts of the plan should be reconsidered, including the total number of houses to be built in the district.

By Alex Ballinger

After the first public examination of the plan last November Mr Emerson said: "The housing requirement in the submitted local plan of 10,500 dwellings is not justified and has not been derived from a process which complies with the NPPF (National Planning Policy Framework)

"Further work is required which, if the council wishes to proceed, will mean a suspension of the examination."

The second public examination was due to take place in February, but has now been suspended until early next year while the council updates the plan to include more housing.

An independent review of Oxfordshire's housing need, the Strategic Housing Market Assessment, recommended WODC build 13,200 new homes.

Mr Emerson added the 10,500 homes planned fall 'significantly short' of the suggestion, and another 2,700 could have to be built.

WODC cabinet member for strategic planning, Warwick Robinson, said: "It is vital that we get an adopted Local Plan in place as soon as possible."

He added: "We believe that through appropriate changes, the plan can ultimately be found to be sound."

•From front page

"It's important that opportunities to provide what our community in West Oxfordshire requires are not under-played. Otherwise, we will just be saving up problems for the future."

One resident submitted comments to the council ahead of the meeting on Monday to raising concerns over biodiversity on the site.

Paul Hughes, of Sedge Way, said: "It is good to see multiple small 'parks' within the scheme, but disappointing to see no specific measures to help pollinators, such as wildflowers.

"It would also be good to see bird/bad boxes added to trees and for nesting sites for birds such as sparrows, starlings, swallows, swifts and house martins built into some of the properties themselves."

Man found dead in gas container

AN Abingdon worker found in a gas container died at a science facility in Harwell Campus.

Russell Walker, 42, of Crosslands Drive, was an experimental hall coordinator at Diamond Light Source in Femi Avenue before his death on January 5.

At the opening of his inquest at Oxfordshire Coroner's Court in Oxford last Thursday, assistant coroner Alison Thompson said Mr Walker was found by a colleague in a gas container in an industrial gas storage area. She said: "At 1.10pm, he was pronounced dead by a paramedic with the cause of death ruled to be from carbon monoxide poisoning."

Andrew Harrison, CEO of Diamond Light Source, said: "Russell was an esteemed member of the Diamond team and well known to many of us. He will be sorely missed."

Diamond Light Source spokesman Isabelle Boscaro-Clarke said: "We are not free to discuss the details of the case until the coroner has issued the result of his inquest."

A full inquest is due on May 17.

Two cautioned after Barton flat drug raid

By Loughlan Campbell

TWO people including a woman in a reindeer onesie have been cautioned for the possession of cannabis following a police raid at a flat in Barton on Friday.

Ten officers had to smash their way through the door of the property in Underhill Circus, known to police as having been used as a drugs supply hub for 10 years.

They arrested a 42-year-old man and a 30-year-old woman on suspicion of possessing a controlled substance with intent to supply.

The officers knocked on the property's door just after 9am, and after no reply, used a hydraulic door ramp to get into the flat, where they discovered cannabis and crack cocaine.

The arrests were made shortly afterwards.

The woman was escorted into a police car while wearing a reindeer onesie.

However, the following day police told the Guardian that the duo had been given a caution for the offence of the possession of cannabis.

No charges were brought in relation to the discovery of crack cocaine at the property.

Barton's neighbourhood sergeant Martyn Williams told the Guardian at the scene: "I'm very happy with the operation that was carried out today and it appears to have been well executed as we have made two arrests.

"We hope that it will lead to convictions following a successful investigation and I'd like to offer my thanks to the community who have raised their concerns to us about drugs in the area.

"They helped provide information for us and we hope this will lead to a successful outcome for their sake."

Sgt Williams added that police had further information on other potential drug supply hubs in the Barton area and that they would be conducting similar operations this year.

He continued: "Thanks to the information provided by the community we will be looking to carry out more warrants like this later this year so this is a warning to those in this area that what happened today could be happening to you soon."

Sgt Williams claimed that the flat had been known by police to have seen various dealers use the property for drugs supply over the last 10 years.

Eight of the officers were from Cowley Police Station with the remaining two from the force's joint operations unit, who wrenched the door open.

The flat was subsequently swept for evidence by officers before the arrested duo was escorted from the flat in handcuffs and taken to Abingdon Police Station.

OXON: A public consultation has been launched on changes to the A34 Milton Interchange near Didcot.

Work started in January last year and is still underway to revamp the junction.

The Oxfordshire County Council work is due to be finished this Spring.

A hamburger roundabout is being built which will see a road running through the centre of the roundabout allowing cars from the A4130 Didcot to join the A34 northbound more easily.

Oxfordshire County Council (OCC) has launched a public consultation on two new details to be added to the works - banning cars from Park Drive - the Milton Park direction - from using the through-route, and adding yellow clearway boxes to parts of the junction.

The consultation runs until February 19 at consultations.oxfordshire.gov.uk

Council 'could be sued' as Botley plan adopted

By Alex Ballinger

A LOCAL councillor has warned that Vale of White Horse District Council could be sued by residents after it adopted a blueprint for the redevelopment of Botley's West Way on Monday morning.

The council adopted the Botley Supplementary Planning Document (SPD) amid objections from residents who said the document acts beyond its brief.

But the leader of the Liberal Democrat opposition, Debby Hallett, said the document's approval could leave the council open to legal action from those opposing the scheme.

Cllr Hallett said: "I sent a letter to the cabinet this morning identifying some of the concerns I have.

"I'm disappointed.

"I oppose unsound decisions and I'll continue to do that."

An SPD is a guideline on planning and development in an area.

• Designs from the SPD of how the revamped shopping centre could look

Lawyers acting on behalf of the West Way Community Concern campaign group wrote a letter to the council's chief executive David Buckle last November, arguing the SPD acted outside its brief.

The council's cabinet voted to defer the decision in light of the solicitor's letter back then, but formally adopted the document at a meeting at their Milton Park offices earlier this week.

Cllr Hallett added: "They took out reference to the emerging Local Plan 2031, because it hasn't been ratified, so they weren't making new planning policy.

"But they didn't change the way the sustainability appraisal was done."

A previous application by developers Doric Properties for a £100 million development of chain stores and a cinema at the West Way shopping centre was rejected by the Vale in December 2014.

Developer Mace has since taken over plans for the site, and is due to submit a planning application in the next month.

West Way Community Concern secretary Mary Gill said: "We're not opposed to the development, but we're opposed to the document.

"The SPD will allow Mace to submit the same planning application for approval.

"We're disappointed.

"We the public, wish to be able to trust our local authority, but the trust has been in short supply."

Vale published a draft Botley SPD in August earmarking the scale and land to be redeveloped, from Botley Baptist Church in Westminster Way to Field House sheltered Housing in West Way.

Vale cabinet member for planning policy, Michael Murray, said: "You're never going to please everyone.

"We must base the SPD on planning policy rather than the opinions of a small number of people."

Mace spokesperson David McFarlane said: "We have noted the adoption of the SPD and we look forward to continuing to work with the community on our plans for West Way which we hope to submit in early February."

The council's cabinet unanimously voted in favour of approving the document.

Woman is deported for operating a brothel

A 24-YEAR-OLD woman was deported to Romania last month after she was found guilty of managing a brothel.

Police and Oxford City Council executed a warrant in December 2014 on the property in Rymers Lane, Cowley, for a House in Multiple Occupation (HMO) inspection where it was suspected women were working as prostitutes.

Alexandra-Valentina Mirea was questioned voluntarily as the tenancy holder and was found to have links to brothels at Walton Street in Leicester, and Green End Road and Cromwell Road in Cambridge.

She appeared at Peterborough Crown Court on November 20 last year and was found guilty of four offences of keeping/managing/acting/assisting in the management of a brothel.

She was sentenced to 12 months in prison and ordered to pay a victim surcharge of £100 and costs of £900, before being deported to Romania on December 17.

PC Chrisy Jupp, from the Cowley neighbour policing team, said: "This is the first conviction in relation to a brothel in Oxford that we have had in a long time."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director James Miller feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Oxfordshire from their local depots and James is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give James a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Decision on hospital care 'downgrade' to be debated

By Jayne Smith

COUNCILLORS are being asked to approve plans to "downgrade" health services in Chipping Norton to save almost £240,000.

Oxfordshire County Council's cabinet will decide on Tuesday, January 26, whether to use care provided by the Orders of St John Care Trust rather than the NHS to look after intermediate care patients in Chipping Norton Hospital from April.

These are patients who no longer need to be in an acute hospital, but are not fit enough to go home.

The move comes after a two-month council consultation over the plans.

Campaigners Chipping Norton and District Hospital Action Group say the council is being short-sighted and have fired-off a letter to council leader Ian Hudspeth.

It says instead of putting patients in different care homes, with lesser qualified staff, the hospital site could provide all 14 intermediate beds and necessary clinics on one site, and reduce the need for staff such as district nurses and physiotherapists to travel around.

Action group secretary Clive Hill said the Chipping Norton hospital site "is just waiting to be used to its full potential..."

He said an NHS staffed facility could reduce bed blocking, could help minimise people's stay in hospital and was a "hub of expertise".

He added: "In no circumstances should there be any downgrade to the service provision at Chipping Norton until the 2016 county-wide review is completed."

The group has been backed by Cllr James Mills, West Oxfordshire District Council's cabinet member for health, who said there would be less treatments available locally and residents would have to travel to Oxford or Banbury.

He said: "Without this provision, larger hospitals are unable to transfer patients to local care after treatment, resulting in bed-blocking and the higher cost of keeping people in high intensity acute care hospitals such as the John Radcliffe or the Horton."

Cllr Judith Heathcoat, cabinet member for adult social care said: "At a time of unprecedented financial pressure on both social care and health it is important that we spend public funds prudently and achieve the best value for money we can whilst maintaining high quality services.

"This proposal would enable us to keep the same high standard of care patients receive now at a lower cost."

Services currently cost £966,482 and would be reduced to 728,600 a year.

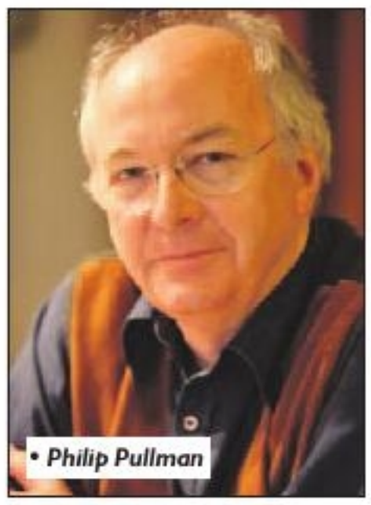
Pullman protest prompts festival rethink

OXFORD Literary Festival have announced they will consider paying authors who speak at events after Cumnor-based author Philip Pullman resigned in protest last week.



• Philip Pullman

His Dark Materials trilogy author Mr Pullman said he was stepping down as a patron of the festival last Wednesday because organisers do not pay authors.

But the festival issued a statement on Tuesday to say they will discuss payments for speakers after this year's festival in April.

Event spokesperson Ralph Turner said: "Once April's festival is over, we will meet with all interested parties to discuss how to achieve payment of fees for all speakers while safe-guarding the presence of our record-levels of unknown writers for 2017 and beyond."

More than 500 speakers are due to attend this year's festival including TV personality Julian Clary, children's author Jacqueliine Wilson and comedian David Baddiel.

Mr Pullman tweeted on January 13: "Because of the Oxford Literary Festival's attitude to paying speakers (they don't) I can't remain as a Patron any longer. I've resigned."

The festival organisers have defended not paying speakers, saying it would cost £75,000 to pay those speaking this year.

Mr Turner added: "We acknowledge that Philip Pullman has been an extraordinary supporter and ally of the festival in his role as patron.

"We have always had enormous respect for his views and commitment and we thank him sincerely for all he has done for us."

The supermarket chain, which opened its Bicester store in 2013, said the work would mean the units will have a consistent appearance.

Estate given a winter clean

BICESTER'S King's End estate has been given a clean-up this week as part of Cherwell District Council's 'blitz' initiative.

The council's green team targeted litter, fly-tipping and dog mess, graffiti and abandoned vehicles.

It came as Cherwell's lead member for clean and green Cllr Debbie Pickford urged residents to "take responsibility for their actions" and clear up after themselves and their pets.

She said: "Since we first launched the blitz initiative 10 years ago we have removed hundreds of tonnes of rubbish by hand and through the use of sweepers.

"However, it seems that even after 10 years our services are still needed as people continue to litter, graffiti and spoil the environment for others.

"We know lots of people take pride in where they live but there are still the odd few who ruin things for so many.

"For our 10th year it would be great if we could finally get everybody to take responsibility for their actions."

On Friday, officers will host a recycling roadshow at the shops off Shakespeare Drive from 3pm.

Residents will be able to get advice on waste and recycling.

Charities back trust despite CQC concerns

By Loughlan Campbell

OXFORD Health NHS Foundation Trust has received backing from mental health charities in Oxfordshire after it was ruled the service "requires improvement" in a report by the Care Quality Commission, published on Friday.

The independent health regulator visited the trust's 15 sites for an inspection from September 28 and October 2 last year, concluding that it "required improvement" in safety and effectiveness.

However it was rated as "good" in three areas: caring, responsive, and well-led.

In the report, it was stated that "on the whole, services were safe" but that the trust had "pockets of poor practice" within it.

There were concerns over the trust's care plan system for patients which were regarded as "not always personalised", and that the staff were making both paper and electronic notes.

Martin Realey, chief executive of mental health charity Restore, said: "I think it's a glowing report and it shows that there has been long-term progress made within the trust in terms of people skills.

"The most important thing when dealing with mental health users is to have good people skills and this report definitely shows improvement."

The report listed the trust's ability to respond to people as "outstanding" in some areas, and that the trust "had the right polices in place to support staff in their work".

Anne Clarke, head of housing at Oxfordshire Mind, said: "The rating achieved by Oxford Health is encouraging as it was noted by inspectors that the organisation has a strong track record of working in partnership with others, which we endorse."

It also stated inspectors found "good examples of emotional support such as bereavement support and counselling services", and rated its children and young people's services highly.

Stuart Bell, chief executive of Oxford Health, said: "There are some very positive messages about the trust overall from the inspectors in the reports, particularly in three of the five domains.

"There are some areas where we think we need to do more, around 'safety' and 'effectiveness' in particular.

"But the vast majority of the areas for improvement were things we recognised and have plans in place to address."

The trust is currently developing a patient involvement and engagement strategy to address concerns about its care plan system, which is due to be implemented by spring this year.

Tributes paid to ex-Oxford councillor

COUNCILLORS have paid tribute to former Oxfordshire county councillor Barbara Gatehouse, who died on January 12 aged 89.

Cllr Gatehouse served as Labour councillor for Blackbird Leys from 2001 to 2005 and Leys and Lye from 2005 to 2009.

Leader of the county council's Labour group, Liz Brighouse, said: "She was a very dear friend and colleague who had a great sense of humour.

"Barbara was a very hard working councillor. She put in long hours for the people she represented and on subjects she cared about, such as homes for older people and adult social care."

During her time on the council, Cllr Gatehouse served on a number of committees including the health and community services scrutiny committee.

She was also a city councillor, holding the role of Sheriff in 1990 and Lord Mayor in 1993.

Leader of Oxfordshire County Council, Ian Hudspeth, said: "She was very clearly passionate about the areas of Oxford she served.

"Although we may have differed politically I knew she had her community at the centre of everything she worked for."

Oxford students set out to relive epic 1923 trek

By Loughlan Campbell

A GROUP of brave Oxford undergraduates are embarking on an 'epic' journey as the first people to retrace the steps of a 'ground-breaking' expedition of 1923 to discover the then-undocumented islands of Svalbard, near the North Pole.

The seven students and University fellow, Dr Stephen Pax Leonard of Exeter College, are undertaking the trip to the archipelago between the North Pole and Norway in July.

> We are all extremely excited to begin this epic journey

They will face 30 days of icy temperatures to record biological research of the landscape.

The original expedition in July 1923, saw four University students cover 180 miles by skiing and sledging while photographing the landscape.

This year the students retrace the steps of their alumni, keeping diaries along the way and camping in ice amid temperatures ranging from -5 to -10°C.

Expedition leader James Lam, 22, who's studying physics at Queen's College says it will be the 'biggest thing he's ever done'.

He told the Guardian: "This is a really personal trip for us students as we're hoping to retrace the steps of a historic group of Oxford students.

"We want to go on exactly the same expedition and pay homage to them but it will take a lot of planning to get it right."

The group is undergoing tough physical training to prepare for the excursion, and are heading to Norway early in the summer to test their skills in the conditions.

The route will see them trek from Duym Point past Bear Bay ending up at Billen Bay by walking and skiing, each pulling about 100kg of equipment.

They attended a series of university talks about solo expeditions and decided in November to travel to Svalbard.

Mr Lam, added: "It's literally the biggest thing I've ever done and we are all extremely excited to begin this epic journey.

"We're hoping to lay another baseline in research of the area so that later this century new comparisons can be drawn."

As part of their expedition, the group will carry out fixed-point repeat photography (replicating previous photos from the same spot) as they look to focus on how the landscape has changed over the 93 years between the expeditions.

They will also conduct temperature profiling of the landscape's various environments and hope to climb Svalbard's mountains, including it's highest at 1,713m above sea level, Newtontoppen,.

The group is filming their trip and hopes to release a documentary to screen at film festivals.

Controversial warehouse plan looks set to be approved

By Jayne Smith

PLANS to build giant warehouses on a corner of Bicester have been recommended for approval tonight despite strong objections.

Albion Land wants to build a 53,000sqm business park on farmland off Middleton Stoney Road and Howes Lane, Bicester.

The site could include offices, general industrial units and storage and distribution warehouses up to 16.75m high.

The developer said the business park could create up to 1,000 jobs.

But the plans have received a string of objections.

In some 78 letters received by Cherwell District Council, people have raised concerns over noise, air and light pollution impacting on residents in the nearby Greenwood Homes estate.

Residents also say the height of the proposed buildings is "unsuitable" for the area and raised concerns over increased traffic the site would create.

All local county councillors – Michael Waine, Les Sibley, Lawrie Stratford, Catherine Fulljames and Timothy Hallchurch – have also opposed the development.

In a letter, Mr Sibley said the site should be restricted to general industrial units and offices.

He said: "This would be more conducive to attracting high tech and high skilled jobs and would be better suited to meeting the greater employment needs and employment target numbers of 1,000 jobs for this area of the ECO development."

Bicester Town Council, Middleton Stoney and Chesterton parish councils and the Bicester branch of CPRE said storage and distribution warehouses were "inappropriate" for the location and raised concerns about increased numbers of HGVs accessing the site.

Oxfordshire County Council said if the business park is built before the re-aligned Howes Lane, which is yet to be approved, it could have "a severe traffic impact".

Sustainability charity Bioregional, which is working with Cherwell council and eco town developer A2Dominion, said it did not support the application as the development was not green enough.

It said: "It is important for the application to show how the development will act as a 'green gateway' as defined in the NW Bicester Masterplan and will provide an interesting and welcoming entrance to the wider development.

"This is currently not shown within any of the submitted information."

The application is due to be decided by Cherwell's planning committee today, Thursday, January 21.

Energy grants

BICESTER: Residents can get help to improve energy efficiency in their homes thanks to grants from Cherwell District Council.

The council has teamed up with the Oxfordshire Affordable Warmth Network to provide cash towards boiler replacements, loft or wall insulation, draught-proofing work and door and window replacements.

School's name

BICESTER: The new school at North West Bicester's eco town will be called Gagle Brook Primary School.

A consultation involving residents, councillors and developer A2Dominion decided to name the school after Gagle Brook, which runs across the eco town sites.

The school, which is part of the White Horse Federation - an academy trust - is due to open in September.

Lauren Costello, of the White Horse Federation, said: "Gagle Brook Primary School and its staff will reflect the beliefs of the people who choose to live in its vicinity.

"We have ensured all decisions of name and identity were decided through active community involvement and we will continue to work with parents, governors and key partnerships to grow an outstanding school."

Antiques centre burgled

BURGLARS broke in through the roof of a West Oxfordshire antiques centre and stole jewellery.

The incident happened at the Quiet Woman Antique Centre, in Oxford Road, Southcombe, near Chipping Norton, on Thursday, January 14 between 11pm and 11.30pm.

Police said thieves broke into cabinets and stole jewellery, including at least one watch.

Officers said no-one was in the shop at the time, and that they are appealing for witnesses.

Det Sgt Richard White, from Witney CID, said: "I would like to speak to anybody who saw any suspicious vehicles or people in the area during the evening or any vehicles driving at speed in the area."

At this time there is no description of the offenders.

Anyone with any information should contact the 24-hour Thames Valley Police enquiry centre on 101, or Crimesptoppers anonymously on 0800 555111.

Leaders back driverless cars on Oxford roads

PLANS to use driverless cars on Oxford roads were backed by city leaders during a meeting last week.

Oxfordshire County Council leader Ian Hudspeth raised the idea in a presentation at a meeting of leaders and major companies at the Said Business School last Thursday.

He said: "It's something I'd like to see. It would be interesting to see how driverless cars interact with driven cars, because a lot of accidents are human error."

Oxford University has been working on the technology at Begbroke Science Park near Yarnton. Engineers unveiled their Bowler Wildcat 4X4 driverless car in 2011.

Oxford City Council leader Bob Price said: "The technology is developing quite quickly. We know we've got experts at Oxford and Oxford Brookes [universities] and if they want to test them out in Oxford we should welcome it. It's still about 4 or 5 years away, but I think they'll be on the roads by the end of this decade."

The Mobile Robotics Group at Oxford University is spearheading the technology led by Professor Paul Newman.

Driverless cars use lasers and cameras to map their surroundings so cars 'remember' roads they have driven on.

Two new Oxford train stations open by 2022?

TWO extra train stations for passengers could open at Oxford Science Park and Cowley linking them to Oxford and the train line to London Marylebone by 2022, according to Oxford City Council leader Bob Price.

The idea was brought up by a Chiltern Railways director at a meeting held on Thursday night at the Said Business School in Oxford's Park End Street.

By Alex Ballinger

Graham Cross, business development director at Chiltern, said once the planned connection from Kidlington's Oxford Parkway to Oxford Railway Station is complete they will look at extending the line to the south of the city.

Councillor Price said: "It's a must.

"A lot more jobs will be opening up there because there are still some empty units.

"We need to be able to get more people there so they don't just have to use buses."

• The conference at Said Business School

Chiltern ran a one-day test in 2014, running a passenger train between Oxford Science Park Station near Littlemore and Cowley Branch Station by the Mini plant.

Currently the Cowley station is only used by freight trains and the science park station is unused.

Oxfordshire County Council (OCC) leader Ian Hudspeth was one of the passengers.

Speaking at the business school to representatives from rail and housing companies, Mr Cross said: "We're looking to expand Oxford's rail service.

"It's not yet a project, it's a prospect. But this will be the next area of development.

"There's a very significant demand to improve Oxford's rail service."

Chiltern Railways currently operate the line between London Marylebone and the new Oxford Parkway station, which opened in October.

The new line between Oxford Parkway station and Oxford Railway Station is due to open on December 12 according to Chiltern managing director Dave Penney.

It had been earmarked to open this Spring, but Chiltern Railways confirmed the delays yesterday (Wednesday January 20).

Councillor Hudspeth said: "I'm 100 per cent behind that idea. I can see the appeal. It's difficult to get around that side of town."

The idea was discussed at a meeting of Oxford leaders and delegates from Oxfordshire housing developers, law firms and architects, hosted by the Constructing Excellence Oxford Club.

Discussions focused on projects and development across Oxfordshire.

Amongst the speakers were councillors Price and Hudspeth and the MP for Oxford East and Abingdon Nicola Blackwood.

Plans to trial driverless cars on Oxford's roads were also debated.

More women marrying

OXON: More women are choosing to have same-sex weddings then men, according to an Oxford University study.

The study also says there was no rush for couples in civil partnerships to marry, as during the first half of 2015, only 5,300 couples converted their partnership to a marriage.

Of all same-sex couples who formed a civil in partnership by June last year, it reveals one in eight had converted their partnership to a same-sex marriage by that time.

Community helps with centre revamp

• Annie Sloan pitching in to paint the centre

By Alex Ballinger

AROUND 30 people from East Oxford and beyond joined forces last week to put the finishing touches to renovating East Oxford Community Centre.

Residents joined paint and colour expert Annie Sloan in decorating the walls of the centre and re-upholstering the furniture as past of a £15,000 revamp funded by Oxford City Council.

The council took over management of the community hub in September amid heated opposition from the East Oxford Community Association, who formerly ran the site.

Mrs Sloan, who owns Annie Sloan paint shop in Cowley Road, said: "It's been amazing. Councils don't have the money to put into these centre, so it's down to people like us to try and help.

"This is a very community-based area."

The Annie Sloan team is planning to help renovate 25 community spaces around the world to mark the 25th anniversary of the shop's opening.

Decoration of the centre in Princes Street, just off Cowley Road, took place on Wednesday and Thursday last week between 9am and 5pm.

Work was finished just in time for the famous music and poetry night The Catweazle Club.

Agata Ciesielska, 33, was amongst the volunteers helping to re-paint the centre.

The interior designer from Summertown said: "I haven't lived in Oxford for long so this is a great chance to meet people.

"I love painting and I love a workshop.

"It's a really a great idea. We can work together to do something for the community."

The centre hosts a range of community activities including dance classes, karate, and asylum seeker drop-in sessions.

A 1,600-signature petition was presented to Oxford City Council last month calling for the centre to be returned to the control of local residents, but the call was rejected.

Council board member for communities Christine Simm said: "What Annie has managed to do has got a lot of people inspired. I think it's going to look incredible."

£21k fine for Oxford landlord

A LANDLORD from Oxford has been fined £21,000 and ordered to pay £4,869 in costs for renting houses to multiple occupants without the correct licence.

Mohammed Yousef, 58, of Iffley Road, appeared at Oxford Magistrates' Court on January 6 after two of his properties were found to be houses in multiple occupancy (HMO), with up to eight people living in each house.

Bob Price, leader of Oxford City Council, said: "Some landlords are taking advantage of the city's housing shortage to rent out unlicensed and badly maintained properties to multiple occupants."

The two properties on Dene Road in Lye Valley were also found to be poorly maintained, with mould and damp discovered in one of them.

The council began investigations into Yousef in May last year when he failed to renew the licences for his properties.

He then didn't respond to the council's requests to submit an application for an HMO license.

Cllr Price added: "I am pleased by the substantial fine charged in this particular case.

"It serves as a deterrent to other landlords who are operating unlicensed HMOs or considering doing so."

Need not Greed protest against housing plans

By Alex Ballinger

COUNTRYSIDE campaigners in Oxfordshire have banded together to offer an 'alternative vision' for the county's future.

The Need not Greed Oxon partnership was launched last Thursday and so far has 14 members including the Campaign to Protect Rural England (CPRE) Oxfordshire, Wantage and Grove Campaign Group and Woodstock Action Group.

The group aims to challenge the county's growth plan of 100,000 new houses by 2031, which it said would sacrifice rural Oxfordshire and has criticised the aims of a local economic group.

Director of CPRE Oxfordshire, Helen Marshall, said: "Unless we succeed in challenging the county's unrealistic and inappropriate growth targets, local residents around the county will find themselves battling against more and more [planning] applications."

According to the partnership, planned housing in Oxfordshire would be the equivalent of two new cities the size of Oxford, lead to 85,000 new jobs and 200,0000 more people. The group has set out its vision, opposing a 'growth at all costs' approach to housebuilding.

Need not Greed also criticised the Oxfordshire Local Enterprise (OxLEP) Partnership, which aims to develop the county's economy.

Chairman of partnership member South Oxfordshire Sustainability, John Gordon, said: "Current planning policies are warped and removed from local democratic control. They are driven by OxLEP's obsession with economic growth at almost any cost, largely ignoring the long-term damage to our environment and to rural communities."

Chairman of ROAR (Rural Oxfordshire Action Rally), Peter Jay, said: "We want to see the right houses, in the right place, for the right people and at the right cost – this campaign will help us to achieve this Oxfordshire."

OxLEP CEO Nigel Tipple said the county's housing target was not set by his organisation but by its strategic housing market assessment by consultants GL Hearn on behalf of the planning authorities.

The first action Need not Greed will be involved in is a Green Belt walk from Radley to Sunningwell on Sunday, January 24.

£675,000 boost

OXFORD: A total of £675,00 has been awarded to senior Oxford researchers to improve NHS care in the county.

The John Radcliffe Hospital's Oxford Biomedical Research Centre and the Oxford Biomedical Research Unit in Musculoskeletal Disease at the Botnar Research Centre in Headington, both part of Oxford University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust, are set to receive the funds from the National Institute for Health Research.

The units will receive the funds over three years, to be shared amongst 15 researchers.

Homes approved

KINGSTON BAGPUIZE: A plan for 280 homes in an Oxfordshire village was given the go-ahead last Wednesday despite objections from local councils.

The scheme for land south of the A420 and east of the A415 in Kingston Bagpuize was approved by Vale of White Horse District Council's planning committee at a meeting last night at The Beacon in Portway, Wantage.

Council planning officer Stuart Walker recommended councillors to approve it.

Kingston Bagpuize with Southmoor Parish Council had objected to the plan, saying it was unsustainable as more than 700 homes were planned for the village including this scheme.

Parish chairman Brian Forster said: "It will destroy the village and the sense of community that has existed here for the last couple of centuries."

Five residents also submitted letters of objection to the Vale airing concerns about the number of houses, the impact on local schools and a shortage of doctors in the area.

Burglaries spark CCTV image appeal by police

POLICE have released CCTV images of a man they would like speak to after jewellery and foreign currency were stolen in a series of burglaries in Oxford.

The first incident took place on Wednesday, December 9, in Banbury Road. At about 1pm, an offender smashed a window and patio door in Banbury Road.

Last Monday, in a second incident, an offender broke into two other houses in Banbury Road at about 5.05pm, stealing gold cufflinks, a gold ladies watch and hoop earrings.

On a third occasion, an offender gained entry to another house in Banbury on the same day between 9am and 6.40pm.

The offender carried out a search but no items were stolen.

Between about 3.30pm and 6.30pm on Monday, January 11, a suspect gained entry to a house in St Giles and stole jewellery and foreign currency including Japanese Yen, Chinese Yuan, Euros, Canadian Dollars and Australian Dollars.

Sometime between 3pm and 8.30pm the same day, an offender tried to gain entry to a house in Cunliffe Close, off Banbury Road, and another property in Banbury Road between 9am and 7pm.

Investigating officer PC Emilie Tomann, based at St Aldate's Police Station, said: "I would like to speak to the man in the CCTV images as he may have information that will assist us with the investigation."

Call police on 101.

Elevant aims to elevate its name in eyes of music fans

YOU could be excused for not having heard of rock band Elevant.

But, despite that, the members of the three-piece will be aiming to make their voices heard when they perform at The Wheatsheaf in Oxford on Thursday, January 30.

Since their inception in 2014, the three musicians - Michael Edward (guitar and vocals), Tom Shand (drums) and Hannah Lodge (bass) - have released two albums, with their third album, 'There is a Tide', due to be released in March.

Lead singer Michael Edward told the Guardian: "I originally formed the band as a recording project and just found the best musicians I knew to play with me.

"I had lived with Tom the previous year, and after our first bassist Joe had to move away, we poached Hannah from the band Indigo Moon because we thought she was tops.

"We didn't know her all that well at the time but touring changes that very fast. We're practically all family now."

Since settling on the hard rock, post-punk genre, the three musicians will be travelling across the UK to make their name known among music fans.

By James Richings

Their original self-written tracks, with the songs being produced, recorded and released under their own record label Elevant Music Limited, proves that Michael, Tom and Hannah plan on being in the music business for many years to come.

And with the group aiming to create a reputation of having some of the most fun shows available, their eagerness to go on tour shows, with their gig in Oxford being the first of 14 planned shows.

"We called ourselves Elevant because elephants are cool animals but if you call your band that, you become very hard to Google," Michael said.

"Everyone will see three very sweaty people giving a tight, loud as hell rock and roll show with lots of passion," he also added. "If you want an approximation of our sound, I guess you could say we're psychedelic? But we're not really. We're just odd. You can tell our iPods go on forever."

This is the band's first gig in Oxford. Doors at the High Street pub open at 7pm and tickets cost £3.50.

Basic car maintenance courses at Martin Gilbert Motor Repairs

Free to our customers

Owning a car is not always simple – but basic car maintenance is!

Martin Gilbert Motor Repairs will be running free evening 'basic car maintenance classes' in 2016. Open to men and women, please bring in your own car, so we can show you where everything is and you never have the embarrassment of calling on roadside assistance for a minor problem again. Classes will be once a month from 7pm till 8pm on the following dates.

- Tuesday 9th February
- Wednesday 9th March
- Thursday 7th April
- Monday 9th May

The course will include checking:

- Oil
- Antifreeze
- Light bulbs
- Water & windscreen wash levels
- Tyre pressure & tread depths
- Windscreen wiper blades

We will also give you some advice on how often you should be checking these things and some professional tips about your car and what to look out for in specific vehicles.

Plus it will give you a chance to talk to a qualified vehicle technician one to one to ask any specific questions you have regarding the basic maintenance of your vehicle.

I can still remember the excitement of passing my test age 17 and buying my first car for £500. It was a Renault 4 with a funny gear stick that came out of the dashboard. My dad was a writer and worked for the super car classics magazine at the time. So he regularly had some amazing sports cars on the drive for him to test drive and write about. My Renault 4 looked rather embarrassing next to these beauties, but I took the chance to spend more time with my dad and learn some basic maintenance techniques. I could already change a tyre and wanted to understand how the engine worked. Several weekend and after school sessions later and I could check the oil level, tyre pressure and treads, check and change spark plugs, brake fluid and discs and a whole host of other maintenance type tasks.

I'm not a mechanic, but that first year of car ownership taught me a lot of things that I have since taken for granted. I enjoy having a basic knowledge of cars, as it makes the bi-annual trip to the garage a lot less daunting. I like the confidence it gives me, doing the various checks before a long journey. Especially now that I have children, whose safety I take very seriously! It's only recently, working for Martin Gilbert's some of my friends, both male and female have confessed their lack of confidence with their own cars and how they would like to know more. We would like to try and simplify your car for you, so you know your way around the basics and therefore help to reduce the risk of major failures. Regular maintenance should also help reduce your annual motoring costs by keeping your vehicle in its best condition.

All that said every time I turn off into an industrial estate to get to the garage or similar I still get that strange feeling of being in an alien environment. I don't know what it is about industrial estates that can be so intimidating, but they are not the most welcoming of places. Martin Gilbert Motor Repairs in Abingdon would like to try and change that perception and make a visit to the Radley Road industrial Estate in Abingdon less daunting. We hope that you will be pleasantly surprised at how clean, friendly and welcoming the place is. A family run business opened by Martin Gilbert in 1982, now run by two of his children Richard and Wendy, the family ethics are still very strong. A member of the Retail motor industry federation 'Trust My Garage' scheme and the foxy lady drivers club, we really care about every customer as an individual.

We want to help people feel more confident around their own cars and when dealing with garages. So, Richard Gilbert has agreed to trial a series of free car maintenance workshops. Once a month in the evening after the garage has closed from 7pm till 8pm, so people can come in after work. You shouldn't need to go into a garage to get some of the simpler maintenance tasks done, although we are always happy to help at Martin Gilbert's and will change a light bulb for the cost of bulb or a wiper blade for the cost of the blade if you find it just too fiddly.

Classes will be held at:

Martin Gilbert Motor Repairs Ltd,
Radley Road Industrial Estate,
Abingdon, Oxfordshire OX14 3RY.

Band to rock joint

O'NEILL'S in Oxford will be rocking tomorrow night, Friday, January 22, as covers band Hustler entertains customers.

By James Richings

The High Wycombe-based group is due to visit the George Street pub to perform hits by artists such as Taylor Swift, Rihanna, Bruno Mars and Katy Perry, all with a strong rock influence.

And as well as covering well-known pop hits, the fivesome will also cover tracks from well-known rock and punk artists such as The Killers, Kings of Leon, Guns N' Roses and Stereophonics to keep with the rock theme.

Musician Steve Clark told the Guardian: "The greatest thing about performing is when we're playing and the whole venue is singing the songs back to you. Sometimes louder than we're playing them.

"We get a lot of people coming up to us at the end of our shows thanking us for playing songs they love that they haven't ever heard played live and that's really rewarding.

"Not everyone has the opportunity to go to gigs and check out their favourite bands, and there are some bands you simply can't see anymore due to them splitting up or musicians passing away.

"So it is nice to keep the legacy of these great songs alive by continuing to perform them and getting the gratitude of the audience when we do that."

The gig tomorrow night will be band's second performance of the year, with the group scheduled to do another 32 throughout the year. However, that number is set to rise.

And despite the fact that the five friends travel all over the south of England to bring joy to hundreds of music enthusiasts, the group's members have to juggle their musical endeavours with their day jobs.

However, this does not stop them from pursuing their passion though, with Steve expecting tomorrow night to be a full house.

"I think we all wish we were full-time musicians, but we all have a wide and varied range of occupations such as art director, print firm owner, event planner, IT management and dolphin trainer," Steve said.

He added: " We also we love this venue.

"We've been playing here now for almost 12 years (apart from the year when O'Neill's became a no-band pub), and we're back again to kick off 2016!

"Oxford O'Neill's has always been a good venue for us, the staff and management always welcome us back, and the punters too.

"There are faces in the crowd we recognise every time we play there that we've been seeing for years, and that's great."

The group's performance at the George Street venue is free, with the music starting at 10pm.

Tickets cost £16 or £14 for concessions.

'There's no day like today'

JONATHAN Larson's rock musical 'Rent' will be at the Oxford Playhouse from Wednesday, January 27 to Saturday, January 30.

By James Richings

Set in New York in the early 1990s, the musical tells the story of eight friends who are struggling to live and survive due to extreme poverty and an AIDS epidemic in the city.

However, all of the friends have an attitude of 'learn to live every minute because there's no day but today', which leads the eight chums to try and make use of the time that they have.

"It's just like a year in the life of eight friends really, and all the bits that this entails," said actress Eleanor Shaw.

"It's about friendship, and it's about life and love and times in crisis. Oh, and dancing.

"I play Mimi Marquez. She's a 19-year-old erotic dancer who is passionate and romantic.

"She's got HIV but she's still a dreamer and wants to 'live each moment as her last'."

Written by composer and playwright Jonathan Larson in the early 1990s, the musical didn't make its stage debut until 1996 in New York.

It would go on to become one of the world's most successful musicals, with the show winning 13 honours including four Tony Awards.

The success and popularity also caught on outside the US, with the show being toured in countries such as Japan, Brazil, Australia, Spain and the UK, before being turned into a film in 2005.

However, despite the global popularity, Jonathan would not live to see the success of 'Rent'.

The 35-year-old died suddenly of an aortic dissection in his sleep on January 25, 1996, just one day after the musical's final dress rehearsal before its off-Broadway opening.

"Jonathan's message to the audience would have been, 'there is no day but today'," Eleanor said.

"Ultimately no matter how dark everything is, you just have to take the time you are given and do as much with it as you can. It's clichéd but true."

She added: "Feeding off the audience's energy and feeling so present in the moment is one of the best things about performing.

"The characters and the storylines only really come alive when someone else is there who believes in it, and you get such a good connection with them when they do as well.

"When you both believe in something so much you make it real, and it's such a privilege to experience."

Tickets cost from £11.50 to £18, and the show is suitable for anyone over the age of 14.

Designed for needs of the commuter

By James Richings

ITALIAN car manufacturer Fiat has announced that the brand new Fiat 500 will join the Fiat Panda as the only two diesel-powered vehicles available in the city-car segment, in the UK.

Designed to suit the commuter's needs when driving on long journeys between congested destinations, the Fiat 500 has become one of the most popular cars on the British roads.

And with brand new features within the car, motorists will now have new gadgets to experiment with when going on their travels.

With a Start & Stop system, rapid engine warm-up, a variable oil pump displacement and smart alternator, the car has been designed to make sure that the driver's journey is efficient.

Producing 95bhp, the all-new car has kept its sophistication from the previous 500, as the second-generation MultiJet car has also got a geometry turbo charger.

This performance ensures drivers that the Fiat 500 is responsive in all gears as the car can reach 62mph from a standstill in just 10.7 seconds, with a top speed of 112mph.

The Fiat also greatly reduces running costs and has vastly improved its eco-friendliness.

The Fiat has now got an official combined cycle fuel economy figure of 83.1mpg and CO2 emissions of just 89g/km.

Prices for the Fiat 500 start at £14,166 OTR for the hardtop 500 Pop Star, or £16,815 for the convertible 500C.

Appleton shuns talk of potential Bristol move

By Loughlan Campbell

MICHAEL Appleton has shunned the prospect of leaving Oxford United, despite talk of the manager being picked up by Bristol City.

Bookmakers installed Appleton as the favourite to take the hotspot at Ashton Gate over the weekend and that speculation intensified with the news that former U's chief executive Mark Ashton had become chief operations officer for City.

However the former Manchester United midfielder has distanced himself from a move, stating that he's happy with his current club.

He said: "I'm absolutely delighted being here.

"I'm actually in the middle of discussing a long-term contract with [executive chairman] Darryl Eales at the moment, so from that point of view I couldn't be any happier right now."

Appleton is still listed as one of the favourites for the job, alongside former England under-21's head coach Stuart Pearce and interim boss John Pemberton.

Ashton followed Appleton's lead however in dispelling talk of his former colleague moving to Bristol in an interview with ITV News on Monday.

He said: "I can kill that speculation as I can understand that people would assume that as I recruited Michael into Oxford.

"Michael is a very talented individual and a head coach that I think will have a very successful career ahead of him, but for now I think the coach for Bristol City will be a different fit."

The 40-year-old joined Oxford United in July 2014 and after having a full pre-season for the first time with a side, has led Oxford to a promotion charge in League Two, into the fourth round of the FA Cup and a potential trip to Wembley in the Johnstone's Paint Trophy final if they can finish the job over Millwall next month.

His performance as Oxford manager has earned rave reviews but Appleton insisted that 'he's got a job to do' with United.

Appleton will take the U's down to Fratton Park on Saturday to face Portsmouth.

Greens into cup's last 16

KIDLINGTON sent fans home dizzy with delight on Sunday after they beat Knaphill 3-1 to secure a place in the fourth round of the FA Vase at Yarnton Road.

The Greens seemed fired up from the start for the game and dominated possession in the early stages with Anaclet Odhiambo and Ryan Brooks both testing the Knaphill keeper.

In the 18th minute, the home side's patience was rewarded as Gabbidon fed the ball in to Odhiambo and the forward chipped home to open the scoring.

However, the Greens were very lucky to maintain their lead after the Woking-based side charged forwards and Kidlington 'keeper Sam Warrell had to fend off a vicious effort in the 27th minute.

Things seemed too good to be true for the home side just seven minutes later after Henry Owen rose highest to head home after Eric Odhiambo knocked in a corner.

In the second half, Knaphill camped in the Kidlington half and they got their dues on 78 minutes, with Danny Taylor chipping the ball home for 2-1.

Although, Eric Odhiambo then put the game to bed, running with the ball from his own half to round the 'keeper before tapping home the clincher to seal the win.

Oxford reward upcoming starlet after nine years of youth football

AN Oxford United Women midfielder has signed her first professional deal with the club after joining 10 years ago.

Sophie Baker , 19, has been with the club since she was in the under 10's development side and has since progressed to the first team squad.

Baker began her playing career at the age of five for Abingdon Youth Boys before moving on to the Saxton Rovers Boys and then joined the Oxford United's Centre of Excellence.

She progressed through each age group from the Under 12's to the Under 17's and then has since been on to the WSL development team.

Sophie said: "I was so excited to be able to play with girls like me when I was 10. I just remember seeing my future coaches stood there with a clipboard judging my every move!

"I wanted to prove myself so much, little did I know this was going to last 9 years."

Her new manager Les Taylor said: "Sophie fully deserves the chance to impress in WSL2. She has been an outstanding prospect all the way through the age groups.

'She has a great attitude, works very hard for the team and just as importantly, listens and wants to keep improving as a player."

Baker joins the first team on the back of a strong season for the first team who finished fifth in the table.

U's burn out in Rovers loss

By Loughlan Campbell

KEMAR ROOFE netted once again as Oxford United fell to a 2-1 defeat to Bristol Rovers in the bitter cold at the Kassam Stadium on Sunday.

The forward grabbed his fifth goal in his last three appearances as the Yellows lost all three points despite a valiant performance in what was their first home defeat since October.

Matty Taylor found Bristol's goal shortly after Roofe's opener at the start of the second half with the away side pushing the U's all the way, and Ellis Harrison sealed the win in controversial circumstances late on after Jermaine Easter was brought down in the box by Sam Slocombe.

Oxford's Ryan Taylor headed wide with 11 minutes on the clock after the U's broke with a fast-paced counter-attack as George Baldock continued his trend to run rampantly down the right flank.

United 'keeper Sam Slocombe had to be quick to catch a fizzing header from Tom Lockyer on 15 minutes after a corner was swept into the box.

Just a minute later Bristol had a golden chance after Chris Line's corner was knocked on and Taylor headed over.

Slocombe then made a fine save to deny Lines from 25 yards out who unleashed an effort after finding space with 22 minutes on the clock.

Oxford took the lead straight after the restart as Lundstram stroked the ball into the box from a corner and Kemar Roofe tapped in from close range.

Just six minutes later Bristol got a lucky equaliser after Taylor headed in after Daniel Leadbitter whipped in a dangerous cross in a swift counter-attack.

There was a controversial moment in the 78th minute with O'Dowda flattened in the penalty area but referee Nicholas Kinsley ruled no spot kick before Lundstram forced Steve Hildenhall into a fine one-handed save with a long-range shot.

Slocombe was then alleged to have brought down substitute Easter on 86 minutes and Harrison, also a substitute hammered past Slocombe with United looking aggrieved having dominated possession as Bristol took home all three points.

Close encounter

ICE HOCKEY: It was a disappointing match for Oxford City Stars at Oxpens Road on Sunday after they were beaten 4-3 by Chelmsford Chieftains.

The Stars dominated the encounter but were unlucky in the end with Ondrej Pekarik grabbing a brace and Benjamin Ealey-Newman also netting.

Oxford remain fifth in the NIHL South 1 on 24 points, five points behind the Wightlink Raiders.

Frosty win

HOCKEY: Most of the games for Oxford Hockey Club were frozen off at the weekend, but the women's thirds recorded a superb 3-2 win over Newbury & Thatcham's firsts on Saturday.

A brace from Christy Barnard and Hie Sawyer got the goals for Oxford which sees them leapfrog Newbury to the head of the Trysports Premier 2 table.

In the men's, Oxford's thirds drew 3-3 with Bicester's thirds whilst Oxford's fifth's were beaten 5-0 by Harrow's firsts.

U's draw Rovers

OXFORD: Tickets are selling fast for Oxford's fourth round encounter with Blackburn Rovers at the Kassam Stadium next Saturday.

The two sides are set to meet after Rovers overcame Newport County on Monday night in their third round replay to win 2-1.

Oxford historically beat Blackburn 3-1 to reach the quarter-finals of the tournament back in February 1964 in front of 21,700 fans at the Manor.

Nine defeats in a row for Freds

WANTAGE Town's troubles continued on Saturday as they fell to their ninth consecutive defeat in a row in a 5-0 defeat at Taunton Town.

The Freds were kicking the ball out of the back of the net in under two minutes after Lewis Powell tapped in after Jamie Short's whipped in cross.

Things did not get better for the Freds as the Peacocks dominated possession of the ball and went further ahead on 29 minutes when player-manager Stuart Cattell deflected the ball into his own net from Jordan Rogers' shot.

Only three minutes later and it was three for the Peacocks as the ball was sent to the far post of the Wantage goal before being cleared out to Charlie Hitchings who stroked the ball home.

There was no luck for Wantage in the second half as on the hour mark they fell further behind when Owen Irish shrugged off his marker and powered home a header from a corner.

Wantage couldn't find any real opportunities to get themselves on to the scoresheet and on 91 minutes, it was five for the home side.

Freds' keeper Ed Cavanagh went out to collect the ball on the edge of the area only for it to bounce off him into the waiting feet of substitute Craig Veal to tap home into the empty net to round out the scoring.

Cattell's side are one place and one point above Burnham who are in the relegation zone.

Oxford snatch up duo

OXFORD RL have made a double signing ahead of their upcoming season in the Kingstone Press League 1.

Scrum half Jorge Richardson and forward Kris Ford have joined up with the Blues squad ahead of the action all kicking off from March.

Richardson has a strong rugby league pedigree, attracting interest from both Super League and Championship teams before joining Oxford from Featherstone.

Ford is a product of the Southampton Spitfires, like Captain Andrew Hoggins and excelled in the open trial sessions with the club back in November.

Head coach Tim Rumford said of Richardson: "We've been aware of Jorge for a while and we think the time's right for him to step up a level.

"He is a smart young player who I feel needs first grade rugby and a positive environment to really get the best out of him."

In relation to Ford, Rumford added: "Seeing him first hand, he looks a strong competitor. There's work to be done but if he meets the fitness levels expected, I think he can have a lot to offer the team."

Richardson said: "I'm enjoying the sessions, the lads have been welcoming and the coaches are very positive.

"It's an opportunity I'm grateful for and I'm determined to make the best of it for both the team and myself.

Ford added: "Getting the call that Oxford were interested in me was amazing and I'm so thankful."

Six in a row for Witney

AN action-packed first half saw Witney RFC overcome Oxfordshire rivals Oxford Harlequins in a tightly contested 11-7 win at the Hailey Road ground on Saturday.

On a cloudless day, the two sides butted horns in an enthralling opening period with the Quins gaining the upper hand inside nine minutes.

With the Blues offside from a ruck, the Quins snatched a line out on Witney's 22 and centre Kenny Fisilua barrelled his way across the line with Sam Watkinson adding the extras.

Witney's number eight Charlie Bennett then broke forward, storming 20 metres down the pitch before the Quins went offside at the ruck.

Fly half Henry Lamb converted the penalty before the home side won another penalty straight after which led to a lineout as the Blues stormed forward and full back Matt Clarke charged over the line.

The Blues led 8-7 at that point and the home side then won a penalty after the Quins stopped a release with Lamb converting to make it 11-7.

Towards the end of the half Witney's second row remained solid and the Quins were penned back when Richard Haire had his try disallowed on the half-time whistle.

The game quieted down in the second half with Witney able to block the Quins' forward line and the Blues secured their sixth consecutive win.

Their recent run has propelled them up the table to third in the South West 1 East and the Blues are only three points behind second-placed Salisbury. Witney face table-tobbers Towcestrians on Saturday.

Late goal dent's City's cup hopes

OXFORD City faced off in a FA Trophy second round replay with Cheltenham Town last night after the Blues were stunned by a last minute equaliser at Marsh Lane on Saturday.

City came into the weekend's encounter pumped up but the visitors and Alejandro-Adrian Santiago's header was cleared off the Cheltenham line with just a few minutes gone.

Cheltenham came close shortly afterwards through Lewis Thompson who dragged his effort well wide of the post when sent through on the counter.

City forward Conor McDonagh nearly netted halfway through the half when he was played in by Carlos Piffare but the striker couldn't squeeze the ball in.

It was around the hour mark when Oxford finally opened the scoring, with substitutes Bradley Bubb and Kynan Isaac combining well as the former tapped home the latter's cross.

Oxford looked all set to hold on to the lead but in the 84th minute, Cheltenham hit back through Niall Rowe, who after being left unmarked, smashed home.

However, City were not to be disheartened and Marlon Jackson restored their lead after Bubb had an effort blocked.

But that wasn't to be the end of the contest as Oxford's Jose Lapoujade left space for Karnell Chambers to cross the ball in for Bobbie Dale to bundle the ball home.

City dropped out of the play-off places in the National League South at the weekend with their competitors playing league games. The club are two points behind Gosport Borough in fifth who have played a game more than the Blues.

The Oxfordshire Guardian went to print as city's replay with Cheltenham took place at Whaddon Road last night.

Defeat to Bridgwater sees Leigh drop out of play-off spots

Millers lose ground in promotion race

By Loughlan Campbell

A LATE goal stunned North Leigh in a 2-1 defeat at Bridgwater Town on Saturday, meaning they fell out of the play-off spots for the first time this season.

Mark Gee's men were playing their first match since Boxing Day after their last two games had been postponed, and despite having control for most of the game the Millers couldn't secure the points in what was a vital win for the home side.

The players battled on the poor pitch in the first half with real verve, and a fast start from Town led to Josh Wadham going close in the opening minutes with a shot just past Leigh keeper James Foster's post.

However the Leigh boys slowly got into the game with Callum McNish, Wayne Turk and Elliot Osborne-Ricketts linking the play.

A deflected shot on 20 minutes from Jon Else was comfortably held by Bridgwater keeper Jake Viney, and Leigh got another chance five minutes later when they were awarded a penalty.

Jamie Cook stepped up and struck it hard, but Viney guessed correctly and saved the effort in what was a big blow to the away side.

Bridgwater struck the post three minutes into the second half before they took the lead through Isaac Reid, who tapped home after a defensive mishap at the back for Leigh.

The Millers roared into life with Turk going close and a free-kick from Stuart Hole was headed onto the post.

On 72 minutes Leigh were level as Else cut inside a defender down the right and fed a cross in for Callum McNish to head past Viney.

The Millers camped in the Bridgwater box looking for a winner but were undone on 84 minutes after Reeko Best broke free and managed to squeeze an effort past Foster's near post to secure the win for the home side.

The result sees Leigh drop to sixth in the table, with the Millers set to take on Swindon Supermarine at Eynsham Park on Saturday afternoon.
